

APM Fine Wine Index©

Methodology:

- The index tracks the average daily percentage change in the prices of the component wines, listed right
 - Each component wine is represented by:
 - All physical (in bottle) vintages produced in the last 12 years
 - Any current en primeur (in barrel) available vintages
 - Component wines are weighted to reflect their:
 - Global reputation
 - Significance to the wine investment market
 - Production levels
- Note: brand conscious rather than vintage influenced buying patterns in the Asian markets has evened out price growth across vintages in recent years. The index weighting does not therefore reflect perceived vintage quality
- The figure employed for the calculation is the average daily price as quoted on price comparison website www.wine-searcher.com
 - The top and bottom 10% of prices quoted are excluded to avoid the results being skewed by spurious listings
 - The calculation takes place at 17:30 GMT daily
 - The component wines and weighting are reviewed by the APM panel monthly
 - The index was set to 100 points on 1st March 2009 (APM's launch)
